

Australian Standard™

Methods of sampling and testing ceramic tiles

Method 6: Determination of resistance to deep abrasion for unglazed tiles

[ISO title: Ceramic tiles, Part 6: Determination of resistance to deep abrasion for unglazed tiles]

PREFACE

This Standard was prepared by the Joint Standards Australia/Standards New Zealand Committee BD/44, Fixing of Ceramic Tiles.

This Standard is technically equivalent to and is reproduced from ISO 10545-6:1995, Ceramic tiles, Part 6: Determination of resistance to deep abrasion for unglazed tiles.

This Standard is the result of consensus among the representatives on the Joint Committee that it be produced as an Australian Standard.

Appendix ZA details a variation to ISO 10545-6:1995 for Australian conditions. Explanation for the basis of this variation is as follows:

A note has been added to Clause 4.3 to indicate that the variability that sometimes occurs in the sizing of the abrasive can be tolerated.

The term 'normative' has been used in this Standard to define the application of the appendix to which it applies. A 'normative' appendix is an integral part of a Standard.

For the purpose of this Joint Standard, the ISO/IEC text should be modified as follows:

- (a) Terminology The words 'Australian Standard' should replace the words 'International Standard' wherever they appear.
- (b) Decimal marker A full point should be substituted for a comma where it appears as a decimal marker.
- (c) References The references to International Standards should be replaced by references to the following Australian/New Zealand Standards:

Reference to International Standard or other Publication
